Voting for the Basest of Men

By Brian Donovan

The month of November will find plenty of right wing, conservative, Bible believing, backslidden Christians going to the polls with the idea that they are actually doing something to save America. Instead of spending time reading the Book they profess is perfect, they spend hours and hours watching Fox News (no doubt drawn to listen due to the in depth intellects of the women announcers), and get riled up about saving a country their Lord has already turned into hell (Psalm 9). Any Christian spending much time in the Bible, will find himself thinking a little more like the Lord and agreeing with His view of the nation.

For the Bible believing Christian, not bothering to vote in November is like refusing to take arsenic instead of cyanide. It is not a gauge of spirituality or even patriotism, but proof that someone has better things to do. As you read your King James Bible, the thought must occur at some point that the Lord God has a certain viewpoint of the kingdoms of men, and it is a stark contrast to the views of the apostate Baptists. The Lord continually refers to the kingdoms of men as brute beasts that are interested in devouring one another. In Ezekiel 29:3, Pharaoh of Egypt is a great dragon; in Ezekiel 17:3, Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon is an eagle; in Daniel 8:3-7, Cyrus of Persia is a ram and Alexander of Grecia is an he goat. Lest you pass these off as just some wicked men of the Old Testament times, Daniel 7:3-7 gives the coming kingdoms after Babylon with the first being a lion, the second a bear, the third a leopard, and the fourth a dreadful beast. These kingdoms in history are Persia, Greece, and Rome, with the fourth beast coming out of Rome with ten horns for the end time. The explanation in Daniel 7:17-22 shows that it is a prophecy of the kingdoms of men clear out to the second coming of the Lord Jesus Christ,

BLOODSUCKERS

By Dr. Peter S. Ruckman

“Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone. Their drink is sour: they have committed whoredom continually: her rulers with shame do love, Give ye” (Hos. 4:17–18).

“There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men. The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give” (Prov. 30:14–15).

The “horseleach” of the text is a bloodsucking parasite. There are internal parasites, like the tapeworm, and there are external parasites, like the leech.

In the Body of Christ, there are external parasites. Paul said “grievous wolves” would enter into the flock and not spare it (Acts 20:29). Jesus said these “ravening wolves” would come in “sheep’s clothing” (Matt. 7:15). In other words, they would look like sheep but destroy the flock of God as wolves.

Those are the external parasites, but the Body of Christ must beware of internal parasites as well. The wolves come from outside the flock, but Paul also warned about false teachers inside the church.

“Also OF YOUR OWN SELVES shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them” (Acts 20:30).

A parasite is an organism that lives off a host. In the case of a leech and a tick, it attaches itself to the host and sucks the blood out.

Now there are legitimate “parasites”; that is, things that have a right to live off another. Children live off their parents; they depend on momma and daddy to feed them, clothe them, and give them a place to stay. God gave you a break He didn’t give the animals. Most animals are put out on their own by the time they are a year old, but man can enjoy his children years and years before they become teenagers. But up to a certain age, a child has a reasonable expectation of his parents taking care of him.

A wife has the right to live off her husband. The man is supposed to be the provider for his house. The woman is supposed to help the man; that's the Bible order. Of course, in America now, both spouses have to work, in a lot of cases, because the government has destroyed the economy and the family. I understand if the father doesn't support the family as he should that a single mother has to get a job to pay the bills. I understand that with jobs and income the way they are these days, sometimes both the husband and wife have to work to make ends meet. But in the Book, the wife is to keep the home while the husband is out earning a living (Tit. 2:5).

In the Book, a preacher has a right to live off his congregation. Jesus told the seventy, "the labourer is worthy of his hire" in regards to people taking care of them for preaching (Luke 10:7), and Paul repeated that in regards to "the elders . . . who labour in word and doctrine" (1 Tim. 5:17–18). If someone communicates spiritual things to you, he has a right to expect you to communicate physical things to him (1 Cor. 9:7–11), and you have an obligation to take care, physically, of the one who ministers to you spiritually (Rom. 15:27). Of course, the preacher has to be careful that he is not in the ministry for the paycheck (1 Pet. 5:2), but "the Lord [has] ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel" (1 Cor. 9:14).

If you think about it, we Christians are "parasites" on Christ: we live off Him, both here on earth and, later on, in Glory. Jesus said:

"As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me" (John 6:57).

That statement really messed up the Catholics. They used John 6 to prove you get eternal life by changing a starchy cookie into Christ's literal body and a cup of hootch into Christ's literal blood, and then eating and drinking that. According to what Jesus said in John 6:57, that would mean the Son would have to be cannibalizing His own Father. He said you live by Him the same way He lives by the Father, didn't He? Well, if you are eating Christ's literal flesh in the Mass, then Christ must be eating God the Father, because that is the comparison given. That's the mess into which they get for not going down to verse 63 in that chapter and seeing that Jesus wasn't talking about His literal flesh and blood at all—in any "manner," bloody or "unbloody." It was a spiritual sustenance.

"It is the SPIRIT that quickeneth; THE FLESH PROFITETH NOTHING: the WORDS that I speak unto you, they are SPIRIT, and they are LIFE" (John 6:63).

When you believe those words and come to Christ in faith, the Holy Spirit puts you into the spiritual Body of Jesus Christ (1 Cor. 12:13). I live off Jesus Christ, spiritually. Paul said:

"I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me" (Gal. 2:20).

All the spiritual sustenance I get, I get from Him because I'm attached to Him. I'm in Him and He's in me (Col. 1:27). That's a legitimate form of parasitism.

But there are several forms of parasitism in Christianity that are illegitimate. The first is the Vatican making a living off Christian profession when it is not Christian. The Roman Catholic Church has survived for over 1,500 years living off the profession of being Christian when there is nothing Christian about any part of it at any time, any place, anywhere. The Catholic position on the local church is false. The Catholic position on salvation is false. The Catholic view of the sacraments is false. Its view of the future is false. Its view on Mary is false.

Of course, there are some things the Catholic Church teaches that are true, but even then you have to watch out. They teach the virgin birth of Christ; that's true. But they mix it with the doctrine of the "Immaculate Conception"; that is, the reason Mary was able to give birth to a sinless Saviour was because she was conceived without original sin herself, and that's false. They teach the Deity of Christ and the Trinity, and both those are true. But they treat Mary as a "Co-Redemptrix" with Christ and picture her (literally) as the fourth member of the Trinity. (I have seen the "prayer cards" put out by the "Trinitarian" fathers, picturing God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit, with Mary—and no one else—seated right along with them.) That's a hellish lie. Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, BUT BY ME" (John 14:6). Mary has nothing to do with it.

They teach the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ for sins. Of course, it is not "according to the scriptures" (1 Cor. 15:3-4). They add a lot of nonsense to it, like in Mel Gibson's "Passion of the Christ." They take something that is true and make it "of none effect" by their false tradition (Mark 7:13).

When it comes to the things I say about the Catholic Church, some people get awfully "nervous in the service"; they don't like the way I talk. Well, when Martin Luther wrote the Pope, he addressed him as "Your Most Hellish Father" and "Your Hellishness." How would you like to sit under a pastor like that?

The Roman Catholic Church has not produced one Bible scholar in over 1,500 years. They may have "doctors of the church," but any man who has actually studied the Bible, as opposed to Roman Catholic dogmatism, has left the Catholic Church. Men like Thomas Aquinas and Augustine couldn't teach a daily vacation Bible school.

If you don't believe me, go to a Roman Catholic country some time and see how many of its church members carry Bibles to church, much less anywhere else they go. These days, few enough Baptists carry them, but you will find more people here with a Bible in their car, or reading it on the job or at the airport or in the doctor's office, than you will in a Roman Catholic country. The people who carry Bibles in Austria, Spain, Italy, and Central and South America are nearly always Protestants, not Catholics. There is something about a Bible that spooks a Catholic.

The Catholic Church has been living off a Christian profession for so long that when you say the word Christian to the average Jew, he thinks Catholic. When the news media and the world talk about "the Church," it is nearly always a reference to the Pope and Rome. But there is nothing Christian in the whole depraved, godless mess.

Tell me, when did Peter, Paul, or John ever tell any Christian to set up a Church-State? When did an "early Christian" in the book of Acts pray to Mary? They didn't do it. That's a bloodsucker working on you. Where did you ever read of any apostle or elder in the New Testament baptizing babies? Bloodsuckers, man!

In his book Vatican Billions, Avro Manhattan documents the Roman Catholic Church worldwide raking in something like ten billion dollars since 1940 through things like "Peter's pence" and worship at shrines, and investments like the Watergate Hotel, Yankee Stadium, wine distilleries, and controlling interest in Miller Beer. That's an ecclesiastical body of bloodsuckers draining its congregations dry under the profession of the virgin birth, the Deity of Christ, the Trinity, etc. And during that time, they were persecuting Evangelical Christians in Mexico and burning Bibles in places like Colombia, Mexico, and Spain. That wasn't the Dark Ages; that was the Twentieth Century.

Back during 1900, during the Boxer Rebellion in China, some Chinese broke into the home of Jonathan Goforth with the intent of killing him and his family by cutting off their heads with machetes. As they came through the door, Goforth's little boy yelled out, "We're not Catholics!" When those Chinese heard that, the leader told the others, "Leave them alone. They're not bad 'foreign devils'; they are good 'foreign devils.'" That Chinaman knew more about the Catholic Church than Tony Blair, former Prime Minister of England, knows.

Now I know independent, Fundamental Baptists aren't lily-white. We have had our share of foul balls in the ministry. Even so, they are nowhere near what has come out of the Catholic Church. Who ever heard of any other church or denomination that produced a thousand pedophiles among its clergy? The Roman Catholic Church produced that many in less than twenty years, with more coming. Those are the bloodsuckers that profess Christianity.

"They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate" (Tit. 1:16).

What other church or denomination has produced a membership that included the likes of Rock Hudson, Frank Sinatra, John Gotti, Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini, Joseph Goebbels, Heinrich Himmler, Lucky Luciano, Fidel Castro, and on and on; fornicators like JFK, drunks like Dean Martin, dictators like Napoleon Bonaparte, mobsters like Al Capone, et al. The old saying is: "Birds of a feather flock together"; the Bible says, "By their fruits ye shall know them" (Matt. 7:20).

The second bloodsucker is the government. All governments make a living off their citizens. None of them work or produce anything to make money; they all steal money from those who do. Between State and Federal incomes taxes, the government takes half of your paycheck: fifty cents out of every dollar you earn. That doesn't include sales and gas taxes.

In 2014, the Federal government collected $2.8 trillion in taxes. Here are some of the things on which they spent it. Here are your tax dollars at work:

1. $175,587 to see if cocaine causes Japanese quail to "engage in sexually risky behavior."
2. $387,000 to have robots give rabbits Swedish massages. (No, I am not making this up.)
3. $200,000 to remove tattoos.
4. $171,000 to teach monkeys to gamble.
5. $3 million to study video games.
6. $335,000 to build 38 speed bumps in two neighborhoods in Portland, Maine.

7. $307,000 to study the impact swimming “sea monkeys” have on ocean currents.

8. $120,000 in “performance bonuses” to an employee of the Environmental Protections Agency, who, by his own admission, spent six hours of every eight-hour work day looking at pornography on his government computer.

9. $500 million to figure out how to get five-year-olds to sit still in kindergarten.

10. $4.6 billion to bail out banks that loaned money to people they knew couldn't pay it back.

That's just a sampling of government bloodsuckers. It doesn't include the money the government spends to promote abortion, sex perversion, evolution, and Socialism. Nor does it include the money spent to censor, arrest, prosecute, and jail Christians who won't knuckle under to the government in those areas.

At the time I put this message together, the government of the United States owned a third of all the land in America: 760 million acres. It had 663,000 offices worth $91 billion, and one of every ten Americans was on the government payroll. You say, “Where did they get the money to pay for all that?” From you! They're bloodsuckers.

Modernists are bloodsuckers; they are also known as Liberals. They are unsaved professing Christians that don't believe in the virgin birth or the Trinity or the Deity of Christ or the inspiration and infallibility of the Bible or salvation by faith alone in the blood atonement of Christ. But they get their ordination papers under false pretenses by subscribing to creeds that proclaim all those things. They then take the pulpits of Bible-believing churches, where they get a paycheck from parishioners who believed those things before they were talked out of their faith by the Liberals and Modernists.

Nowadays, they hide behind the mask of “Evangelicalism.” They call themselves “emergents.” They don't believe in Hell. They don't believe Jesus died to keep you out of Hell. If the virgin birth weren't true, it wouldn't bother them at all. They are bloodsuckers draining the life from churches. They “church” anyone who believes the Book, get rid of the King James Bible, get rid of the hymn book, get rid of the pulpit, bring in the rock band, start “rapping” and giving self-help talks instead of preaching, and fill the church building up with an unregenerate membership.

Denominational machinery is a bloodsucker. The pastors bloodsuck the denominational machinery, but mostly, the denominational machinery bloodsucks the pastors.

Don't tell me; I'll tell you. I was ordained as a Southern Baptist minister. I was ordained in the largest church in the Escambia Bay Association at that time, and my pastor was moderator of the Association. I know all about the Lottie Moon offering and the Annie Armstrong offering and the GAs, the RAs, and the Sunbeams. I know all about the Sunday school literature and the Cooperative Program. The Southern Baptist Convention sits back and draws money out of local churches, filled with Bible-believing Christians, all over this country. They use that money to fund schools like Stetson, Judson, Howard, Wake Forest, etc., that don't believe a cotton-picking word in that Book. They're bloodsuckers!

The Convention keeps the local pastors under control with promises of a pension and retirement. When it comes time to retire, the pastors aren't paid enough on which to live. I have seen it on more than one occasion.

Local Southern Baptist churches are supposed to be autonomous. That means they are not supposed to be run by Convention headquarters. But I have seen pastors taken to court by the Convention for getting rid of the Sunday school literature. In one church, 400 out of 500 members voted to leave the Convention; the hundred got together with the Convention bosses to take the 400 to court, claiming they were stealing Convention property.

Christian schools are bloodsuckers: they make a living off local churches. These Christian Colleges and Universities send their graduates out and demand loyalty to the school over loyalty to the local church. When a dispute comes up between the graduate and the congregation, the school weighs in on the side of the graduate when the graduate weighs in on the side of the school. I have seen Bob Jones Jr. write the members of a local church who had attended BJU to vote against a pastor who wouldn't side with Bob Jones University on an issue.

One preacher who was invited to preach at Tennessee Temple said from the pulpit, “God didn't call any man to correct that Book,” talking about the King James Bible. The faculty members who corrected the Book in the classroom were sitting on the platform behind him. When he got home, he received letters from several of his young people attending the school telling him their professors were cutting him down in class for believing what “Ruckman” believes. Well, that preacher was a personal friend of Lee Roberson, the president of the school. The next time they met, that preacher had a long talk with Bro. Roberson and confronted him about what his professors said in class. That preacher said, “I believe exactly what Pete Ruckman believes about the King James Bible.” Lee Roberson said, “I do too, but when I hire those professors, they say they believe it. But then they get in the classroom and start changing it." "Why don't you fire them?" the preacher asked. Roberson said, "It would just cause too much trouble." So after Lee Roberson died, the school and church went through several pastors who didn't believe the Book at all. Today, both Highland Park Baptist and Tennessee Temple are gone; they've shut down. What was the problem? Bloodsuckers on the faculty who drained the life away.

These Christian Colleges and Universities are absolutely dependent on the local churches to stay open. Pensacola Christian College advertises its Campus Church as a Baptist church when it is no such thing. If local churches stopped sending their students to PCC, the Campus Church would fold within a month. PCC makes its living off local churches; it sucks the blood from them.

Some evangelists make a living off local churches and suck the blood from them. These "televangelists" and radio teachers try to supplant the local church. "This is your radio pastor." Nah, if you don't have hospital calls to make, if you don't bury people or marry people, if you don't do visitation, you are not a pastor.

Here is Billy Graham saying to those who made professions of faith at his crusades, "Go to the church of your choice." Why, you dirty, godless reprobate. Those are babes in Christ. You wouldn't tell a newborn baby, "Eat what you want to eat." A newborn baby doesn't have the sense to know what to eat. The very idea of sending some of those new converts to Liberal churches, modernistic churches, Catholic churches, Church of Christ churches, and Charismatic churches where they are going to be pumped full of false doctrine. "Go to the church of your choice"—that's the worst advice you can give a babe in Christ. But Billy is trying to get in good with the pastors so they will support the meeting. That's a bloodsucker.

Finally, some Christians try to make a living off local churches. There was a lady over at Brent Baptist, where I used to pastor, who organized a "secret pals club" in the church. She gathered together ladies in the church around her who would take care of her. Another lady started "church hopping" and going to Holiness churches, even though she wasn't Holiness. When asked what she was doing, she said, "Renewing old friendships." Don't you know!

There have been members who left this work, and before they defected, they contacted every key member to try to take them with them to bust up the church. Those are bloodsuckers. Of course, they drip with piety. "Oh, please pray for us, and we'll pray for you." That's to numb you before the fangs sink in. The cure to that bloodsucking is to get your own ministry and mind your own business. Paul said:

"Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly . . . and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand . . . For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth" (2 Cor. 10:15–18).

Don't be a bloodsucker and live off what someone else is doing for the Lord.

when He will destroy the kingdom of antichrist, the fourth beast. In type, these beastly kingdoms are England (the lion), Russia (the bear), and the USA (the leopard). Pray about that last sentence awhile.

For a change, let us take the Lord's view of the political kingdoms of men. He has set up Satan as the "god of this world" (II Corinthians 4:4), with power to give the kingdoms to whomever he will (Luke 4:5-6). Under the judgment and authority of the Lord Jesus Christ (John 5:22-27), Satan is allowed to delegate temporal rulers their authority. As the most High that "ruleth in the kingdom of men and giveth it to whomsoever he will" (Daniel 4:25), the Lord looks down and plays with the Gentile kingdoms (and that includes the USA) as pawns in His plans to achieve His purposes. One of the ways the Lord does this is to take the USA and "setteth up over it the basest of men" (Daniel 4:17). Instead of all the typical rhetoric about how a democracy works, pray about that last sentence awhile since that was not my opinion, but a verse from your King James Bible. Imagine a King James Bible believing Christian getting stirred up about putting Trump in office instead of Hillary. The outcome will prove which is the baser man and my prediction is that the result will be hilarious.

The reason that the Lord refers to politicians as the "basest of men" is because of their selfish desires. Christians are being told today that many of these Representatives, Congressmen, Governors, etc., are great Christians who "were once Marine Lieutenants, Sunday School teachers, and even Pastors". All that means is that they took a huge step down to become a politician and enter the filthy, beastly world of compromise called the kingdoms of men, now taking orders from the god of this world. One time I called the office of one of these lauded "Christians turned politician" and asked his office for his stand on the rights of queers. The answer was that the politician was “dismayed at the recent Supreme Court ruling regarding gay marriage”. So I asked again about his stand on the rights of queers, and after a moment, the aide returned to say that the “congressman has no public stand regarding gay rights”. Yet this was one of the men we are supposed to look up to and applaud because he met with a bunch of preachers in March and gave them a testimony of his salvation. The only possible way to become and remain an elected official in these kingdoms is to compromise. For instance, Trump needed to get votes from the religious right, so he made veiled promises to them that he would take funding away from Planned Parenthood, while out of the other side of his crooked mouth he praised Planned Parenthood as an outfit that has “helped millions of women in this country”. Yet Christians are being told by Bible believing pastors to “compromise” and vote for this knucklehead because he picked a saved running mate. The term his running mate uses to describe himself is a “born again Catholic”.

One of the greatest examples of compromise in the Bible is found in 1 Kings 22 when Jehoshaphat, the king of Judah, comes down to Ahab, the wicked king of Israel, and joins up with him in battle saying, “I am as thou art, my people as thy people, my horses as thy horses” (1 Kings 22:4). Just before he goes, Jehoshaphat decides that it might be a good idea to enquire of the Lord.

So Ahab gathers four hundred prophets on the steps of Capitol Hill with hand joined in hand, singing patriotic songs, and with tears streaming down their faces crying, “If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray, and turn from their wicked ways; then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.” But something doesn’t sound quite right to Jehoshaphat as he remembers that the context of “this house” is the Jewish temple, not the U.S. Senate, and “this place” is Jerusalem, not Washington D.C., and “my people” is Israel, not America. So he asks for a prophet of the Lord, someone who might actually know what the King James Bible says about politics. There is still one left, but he isn’t anywhere near the Capitol gathering, and Ahab hates him (1 Kings 22:8), because he is a street preacher who always has to be so negative. Micaiah has yet to learn how to keep lawyers and doctors in his pews and everyone knows some of his ridiculous beliefs when it comes to understanding the kingdoms of men and their political maneuverings. One prophet even comes to Micaiah’s office and asks him to reconsider and go along with the movement for once (verse 13), but Micaiah doesn’t even know what the movement is. Micaiah tells them where to head in and says, “what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak” (verse 14). When Micaiah gets the chance to meet with Trump, he doesn’t bother with illegal immigration or abortion or gay rights or freedom of speech or persecution of Christians, he points his finger in poor Donald's face and thunders "You are going to hell like a bullet without Jesus Christ". As Micaiah leaves D.C., four hundred preachers are not too happy that he wouldn't attend their prayer breakfast and learn how to "win friends and influence people". Micaiah preaches on the street one more time (verse 28) before he is taken back to his safe house and given bread and water (verse 27).

The scriptures say that as saved people, we are to stay in subjection to the government rulers that the Lord puts over us (Romans 13:1-3, Titus 3:1), we are to render the tribute money required to run the crooked governments (Matthew 22:17-21), and we are to pray for those in authority (I Timothy 2:1-2). The modern conservative, right wing, "Christian" political lobbying for a just and moral government is a cheap replacement for prayer to the Lord to allow us to lead a "quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty" (I Timothy 2:2). This whole modern "Christian political" movement is a foreign thought to the entire New Testament, as well as to the last two thousand years of church history. The Bible student should readily pick up on the "acts" of the apostles as they were hounded by a wicked government and religious councils. They simply continued to preach Jesus Christ in the open streets, and then took the punishment that came with that stand (Acts 4:17-21, Acts 5:27-40). Our spiritual forefathers in the USA were not the Pilgrims, but Bible believing street preachers, who did not set up a "New Israel", or force anyone to follow their church rules under threat of persecution and banishment, nor did they connect themselves in any way to the government, neither asking for help nor pursuing their favor. They set up local Baptist churches through street preaching and getting people saved. The early American Baptists of this country won the respect of the politicians (Washington, Jefferson, Adams and Patrick Henry) as a result of their separation and mainly their street preaching of the gospel, not their attention to the pandering of the politicians. After defending three Baptist street preachers in a Virginia court, Patrick Henry could not understand why they did not kowtow to the government leaders to win their favoritism. What they desired was to be left alone to preach the scriptures without government interference. They asked the government for nothing. The spiritual growth of believers throughout church history has always been in relation to the amount of opposition and persecution handed out by governments and religion, not the amount of saved politicians they could put into office. Putting Trump in office (along with Pence and his Pope) and feeling like you've accomplished something for the Lord, is like starting a Twitter account and feeling like it makes you important because some losers are "following" you.

The apostasy is so rampant right now, we have Baptist preachers looking up to and lauding men like Patrick Henry, John and Sam Adams and Thomas Jefferson, rather than the Bible believing street preachers those politicians respected. After stirring up the pot of rebellion (against the command of Romans 13), Sam Adams and John Hancock ran for their lives once the bullets started flying at Lexington and Concord, in the same vein as the Muslim leaders who instigate suicide bombers to do their dirty work while they hide out in caves and underground bunkers. John Adams' blossoming political career got a huge boost when he won his first law case defending John Hancock for smuggling wine into the colonies, while Patrick Henry gave a "sermon" in St. John's church in Richmond saying, "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it Almighty God. I know what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death". This is a great Christian man? As this rhetoric is preached from pulpits today, does anyone think to go to the Bible and compare this to the apostle Paul? Paul already had his liberty in Jesus Christ (II Corinthians 3:17, Galatians 5:1,13). When Paul saw opposition to his street preaching in Philippi and was thrown in jail with his feet fast in the stocks, at midnight he reared back his head and cried, "No taxation without representation..." Sorry Chucky, wrong door; try reading

Acts 16:16-25.

The professing "Christian" politicians, at least according to the King James Bible, are among the basest of men. Something went wrong somewhere in the life of a believer when he began seeking political office and "great things for himself" (Jeremiah 45:5), and something has gone really wrong in the pulpits of America when Baptist preachers think it is more profitable to vote than preach on the street. I can already hear the arguments of these backsliders who have quit reading their Bibles and spent their days and money with compromising politicians. Not a single argument will quote scripture (unless it's one more misapplication of II Chronicles 7), but will be "common sense" hot air that talks about being a patriot. It would be refreshing to see these "patriots" gather in the streets of Washington D.C. and actually preach on the street, instead of singing "God Bless America", since He has no intention of doing that. The Lord is long suffering and the Lord is merciful, but He is NOT going to bless a nation that stands where we stand. Here comes their argument, "Well then how does it get turned around if Christians don't vote and get active in government; after all, wouldn't it be better to have a saved man in office?" Ye do err not knowing the scriptures, nor politics, and just the fact that you could ask that question shows how far you have come. There has never been a revival in all of church history that was connected to political activity. It has always been PREACHING,

Voting for the Basest of Men

Continued from 13 and that preaching has always been outdoors in fields and market places and streets. So the argument comes, "But preaching on the street no longer has the effect that it used to have in our country and it certainly does not build or benefit the local church". If a comment like that does not make your blood boil, your name must be Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah (I Kings 22:24).

Now if you want to vote next month, have at it, just don't get all excited that you have done any kind of Christian duty. When it is all over, you have simply helped put into office "the basest of men". Once the elections are over, try standing out in front of the Capitol building or the Washington Monument and hold up the KJV and point your finger in the faces of the compromising "saved politicians" and give them some truth, because you can be guaranteed they will not hear it at the next Washington roundup of "independent, Baptist, conservative, right wing" so and sos.

The Revelation of the Seventy Weeks

In a teaching that covers one of the most important prophecies in all of the Bible, the reader is taken through Daniel's seventy weeks. Beginning with the command to restore and build Jerusalem, unto the first coming of Jesus Christ, to a halt in the Lord's prophetic clock at Calvary, resuming again after the rapture of His church, through the ministry of the antichrist, and culminating in the second coming of Jesus Christ.

The Last Generation of New Testament Preachers

By Dr. Peter S. Ruckman

As anyone who reads the Bible should realize, we New Testament believers are in the last generation before the Great Tribulation and the Second Advent of the Lord Jesus Christ. This means that the last generation of New Testament Bible preachers is ministering and preaching the grace of God through the Gospel (the death of Jesus Christ for sins, His burial, and His resurrection as given in the Scriptures—1 Cor. 15:1–4). The next “gospels” to show up are preached by 144,000 Jewish evangelists (Rev. 7:4–9 cf. Matt. 24:14) and by an angel (Rev. 14:6–7). Neither one has anything to do with the Pauline Gospel at all (Gal. 1:8–9).

The “gospel” in the Tribulation, for those who survive (Matt. 24:13), demands faith and works: belief in Jesus Christ and keeping the commandments (Rev. 12:17, 14:12). That is not the message now. The message now is not that “the kingdom am a comin’” or even worship the Creator. It is “the gospel of the grace of God” (Acts 20:24), decided upon in Acts 15:11. You are in the midst of the last generation of preachers to deliver that message.

Now in the Old Testament, the last preacher to preach the truth to Israel before they went into captivity for seventy years was Jeremiah, the weeping prophet (see Jer. 9:1, 14:17). His job was to prepare Judah for total destruction. He had a totally negative “gospel.” He was to preach the capital would be burned to a crisp, the Temple torn down, the women raped, the old men hung up by their thumbs, and the children sent into slavery; and it came to pass exactly as he prophesied (read Lam. 1–4).

Jeremiah was the only man in the Bible who was told not to marry or have children because of what he knew was going to take place (Jer. 16:2). That is what Jesus forecasted on His way to the cross to the generation of Jews who go through the Tribulation (Luke 23:28–31). Jeremiah was told not to take a wife and father children because God was going to slaughter wives and mothers right and left (Deut. 32:22–24, 39–42).

Jeremiah belongs to that illustrious group of prophets and men whose names begin with the letter “J” in the AV: Jacob, John Judah, Joseph, Joel, James, Jehoshaphat, Job, Jude, Jonathan, Joshua, and, of course, the greatest “J” of them all: Jesus Christ. To study this last generation of New Testament preachers, who are getting this nation ready for famine, military dictatorship, martial law, concentration camps, starvation, and murder, we need to study Jeremiah. There are several things about Jeremiah that are characteristic of the preachers who immediately precede the Great Tribulation which takes place after they leave.

Notice, first of all, that Jeremiah was called into the ministry without his consent.

“Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations. Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, I cannot speak; for I am a child. But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak” (Jer. 1:4–7).

Jeremiah got into the ministry like volunteers used to be selected in the Army for some dirty assignment or action: “I need five volunteers—you, you, you, you, and you!” The Lord said to Jeremiah, “YOU!” He tried to get out of it, and he couldn’t. He was called without consent.

Second, he was cursed without a cause.

“But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered” (Jer. 11:19).

“Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah; for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words” (Jer. 18:18).

Jeremiah was “out on a limb” because he was trying to turn the wrath of God away from the people. Why did the Sanhedrin stone Stephen? Because he was trying to turn the wrath of God away from them. Why did the Jews have Paul whipped (2 Cor. 11:24)? Because he was trying to get them saved so the wrath of God wouldn’t get them.

Why do you think those Pharisees and Sadducees had Christ crucified? Because He was trying to keep the wrath of God from killing them. Jesus said, “He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God” (John 3:18). John added, “he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him” (John 3:36).

Jeremiah’s own people plotted against him for no other reason than he was trying to get them to repent so the wrath of God wouldn’t kill them. He was cursed without a cause.

Thirdly, Jeremiah was jailed without a jury. In Jeremiah 38:4–6, the Princes of Jerusalem came to the King and accused Jeremiah of demoralizing the people. They wanted Jeremiah thrown in prison, so the King had Jeremiah thrown in the dungeon where he “sunk in the mire” (Jer. 38:6).

Jeremiah got bitter about that. He said to God, “Will you be like a liar to me (Jer. 15:18)? You’ve deceived me (Jer. 20:7).” He got so bitter that he said, “I won’t speak anymore in your name, God (Jer. 20:9).” Of course, he repented of it, but still, he got really bitter at the Lord. If you are a New Testament preacher, you can look forward to, eventually, being jailed without a jury. Just expect it, and that will help you be less bitter than Jeremiah got.

Next, Jeremiah was faithful without friends. Jeremiah wound up with only two friends: a white man (Baruch) and a black man (Ebedmelech); that’s all he had. At the end of Paul’s life, he only had a medical doctor (2 Tim. 4:11); at the end of His life, all Jesus had was one apostle out of twelve (John—John 19:26). The Bible is giving you “end-time” preachers prophetic truth you can’t miss: you are going to fare just like Jeremiah.

Finally, Jeremiah was right without a reward. Nebuchadnezzar comes into Jerusalem and tears the whole place up and gives Jeremiah his freedom. The remnant come to Jeremiah in a panic wanting a word from the Lord after the Governor is slain in a “coup” by a bunch of renegades. When he gives it to them, they still won’t listen and carry Jeremiah down into Egypt against his wishes (read Jer. 43–44). After everything he went through, he wound up in a pagan land with a bunch of rebels. Like the Apostle Paul, he died with no wife, no kids, no house, no church, no “health care,” and no pension. But worse than the Apostle Paul, Jeremiah ended his ministry with no converts of whom he was aware. That old boy seemingly got no reward for doing what God told him to do.

Back in the Dark Ages, a French King ran into a Waldensian preacher named Millard. That King told Millard, “You better change your style of preaching, or I’ll have you drowned in the river.” That old Waldensian preacher told that King, “If you do, I’ll get home to Heaven quicker than you can get back to your castle riding all day on your fastest horses.” Quite often you don’t get your reward in this life.

Uncle Bud Robinson, a great preacher at the turn of the last century, was once told by his critics, “Bud, if you keep on preaching like you’re preaching, you’re going to die of starvation.” That old saint replied, “Well if I do, I am going to spend my last few cents on a half pint of vinegar and a box of baking soda. I am going to swallow the baking soda and drink the vinegar, and I’ll swell up like a poisoned pup and make everybody think I died of gluttony. Then I’ll sit down at the Marriage Supper of the Lamb and stuff myself silly.”

As far as Jeremiah knew, he didn’t have one convert to show for a lifetime of preaching. But what he didn’t know was there was a teenager named Daniel and his three buddies who had been listening to Jeremiah before they got hauled off to Babylon. Those boys wouldn’t defile themselves with the King’s meat; and they wouldn't bend, they wouldn't bow, and they wouldn't burn when Nebuchadnezzar set up his image and rock band. At the end of his life, Daniel got to reading Jeremiah the prophet and claimed the prayer promise that resulted in Israel returning to the Promised Land (Dan. 9:2). But Jeremiah never saw that. As far as he knew, he was right without any reward.

When the great Bible translator William Tyndale was tied to the stake, he prayed, "Lord, open the King of England's eyes." His reward for being "faithful unto death" (Rev. 2:10) was being strangled and burned. But two years after that old boy died, the King who ordered his execution ordered the Bible to be placed in every church in England with a reader present to read to anybody who wanted to hear the word of God in English. Tyndale's Bible ended up going around the world in the form of the King James Bible: the Authorized Version is 80–90% the work of William Tyndale.

Now, brethren, I know what the reward is for faithful service when you get to the New Jerusalem. You can read about it in 1 Corinthians 3; 2 Corinthians 5; and 2 Timothy 2, 4. It has nothing to do with "health and wealth" or "prosperity" like the Charismatics preach. It has to do with getting sinners to join you in going to Heaven (1 Thess. 2:19, Phil. 4:1; 2 Cor. 1:14).

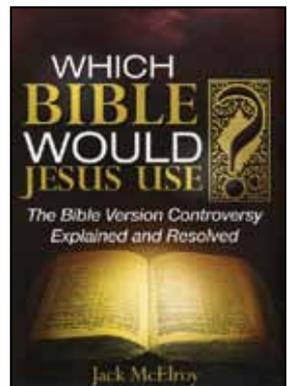

Christian, you may not be a "preacher" per se, but every believer is to be a witness for his Saviour. What are you doing to tell people the Good News that Jesus Christ died for their sins and rose again to take them to Heaven? The time is running out. Soon it will be too late to preach the Gospel, and too late to receive it if you are a lost sinner. That's why Paul said, "behold, NOW is the accepted time; behold, NOW is the day of salvation" (2 Cor. 6:2).

Which Bible Would Jesus Use? convincingly explains why the Lord can't use the NIV, ESV, NASB, NLT, NRSV, or any modern version, including the New King James Version, without looking foolish and destroying the brand He's established for the past 400 years. His choice is proven to be the King James Bible.

Which Bible Would Jesus Use? is a new, entertaining, and easy-to-read volume that delivers convincing answers to the most difficult objections posed by King James Bible critics.

Includes bibliography, index, Scripture index, lots of photos and charts.

The “Strong Delusion”

“And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie” (2 Thess. 2:11).

Notice in the above verse that it is God who is the Author of the “strong delusion” that causes a certain group of people to “believe a lie.” You will find the same thing in the Old Testament (Ezek. 14:1–11). If you want to see how this “permissive will of God” works, read 1 Kings 22:22–23. In that passage, God gives permission to a lying spirit to deceive a King for the purpose of causing his death.

Now what is the “strong delusion” in which 90% of “New Age” populace will believe? It was told them more than 1,400 years before Columbus discovered San Salvador. It was given to the Gentile nations by the Apostle to the Gentiles (Rom. 11:13) in A.D. 53. The context of the “delusion” is the coming anti-Semitic, demoniac world dictator (Dan. 11): the Antichrist (1 John 2:18, 22). You are now in the generation of which Paul spoke in 2 Thessalonians 2:11 (cf. Prov. 30:12–14; Matt. 24:34). So the “strong delusion” is “in the making,” and it will prosper, according to Daniel 11:16, 24, 36 and Revelation 13:1–8.

The King of deceivers, of course, is Satan (Rev. 12:9; 2 Thess. 2:9–10; John 8:44), but like God, he uses men for his purposes (John 8:44; Eph. 2:2 cf. Matt. 10:17; John 2:25). He gets permission from God (see Job 1:8–12, 2:3–6) to trap the unwary (2 Tim. 2:26). As “the god of this world” (2 Cor. 4:4), who controls all of its kingdoms (Luke 4:5–6 cf. Rev. 11:15), his job is to “be like the most High” (Isa. 14:14). Hence, he produces a counterfeit “angel” (2 Cor. 11:14), counterfeit “ministers” (2 Cor. 11:15), counterfeit “apostles” (2 Cor. 11:13; Rev. 2:2), a counterfeit “Jesus” (2 Cor. 11:4), a counterfeit city that is a woman (Rev. 17:5 cf. 21:9), and a counterfeit Messiah (Ezek. 28:14; N.T.—“Christos,” Matt. 24:5, 24).

There are two religions that are the Great Deceiver’s “showcase” for counterfeiting; they are Roman Catholicism and Islam. Both religions are responsible for deluding something like four billion sinners since A.D. 325.

For instance, Mohammed converted an Arab moon god (“Hubal”) into “the one God” (cf. Mark 12:32; James 2:19); he then offered himself as a counterfeit “messenger” (cf. Mal. 3:1), a counterfeit “prophet” (cf. Deut. 18:15–18; Acts 3:22–26), and a counterfeit “apostle” (Heb. 3:1). He came up with a counterfeit “Bible” (the Koran), a counterfeit city (Mecca), plus a counterfeit “plan of salvation” (the five pillars of Islam). Today, Mohammed’s counterfeit religion boasts over a billion adherents. Pretty strong delusion, wouldn’t you say?

You don’t have to travel very far to run into another counterfeit religion matching Islam; only this one preceded Mohammed by 250 years. It is evident from where Mohammed adopted his “modus operandi” (i.e., his method of destroying countries and damning populations): he got it from the Roman Catholic Popes.

The Popes converted themselves into a counterfeit “God the Father” (usurping God’s title from John 17:11), a counterfeit “God the Son” (the “Vicar of Christ”), and a counterfeit “God the Holy Spirit” (speaking “ex cathedra” on matters of faith and morals; cf. 2 Pet. 1:20–21). They gave their followers a counterfeit “mediator” (cf. 1 Tim. 2:5) by converting a Jewish maiden into a demoniac “Queen of Heaven” (see Jer. 7:18, 44:17–19, 25) with Jesus Christ’s attribute of omnipresence by being able to hear the prayers of over 900 million sinners all at the same time. The Roman Catholic “Mary” is no more the Mary of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John than the “Jesus” of the Koran (“Isa”) is the Jesus Christ found in the New Testament. The Popes produced a counterfeit “Bible” which contains seven additional books in the Old Testament (as well as additions to Daniel and Esther) that are no more “canonical Scripture” than Alice in Wonderland or Pinnocchio. “The oracles of God” were to the Jews alone (Rom. 3:1–2). No Gentile Roman Catholic wrote one line of “the holy scriptures” (Rom. 1:2) which Jesus Christ defined in Luke 24:44. But up pops a “Bible” with seven “deutero-canonical” books in the Old Testament which millions of “Christian” suckers accepted as “the holy scriptures” (2 Tim. 3:15) from the time of Jerome to Luther. It was Luther who first removed those seven rotten, worthless pieces of pulp fiction from the canon of the Old Testament and stuck them between the Old and New Testaments as not a part of inspired Scripture; the Geneva Bible and the King James Version followed suit. But what a stunning “delusion” to last over a thousand years; you have to “take your hat off” to the Roman Catholic Church for pulling off that one.

The Catholics have a counterfeit city (Rome) to take the place of the earthly Jerusalem and New Jerusalem. They have a counterfeit “plan of salvation” (keeping the sacraments). They have counterfeit Priests to take the place of the “High Priest of our profession” (Heb. 3:1) and they replace the priesthood of every believer (1 Pet. 2:5, 9) with a priesthood of child-molesting bachelors in Halloween costumes. And to top off their blasphemy, they have a counterfeit “Jesus” that turns out to be a starchy cookie and a jug of hooch, which they address as “my Lord and my God” (cf. John 20:28). It takes a really “strong delusion” to get someone to believe that.

Now what was the reason for the “strong delusion”? It was to make sinners “believe a lie” in order to damn them (2 Thess. 2:12). Who gave the lie? According to 2 Thessalonians 2; Ezekiel 14; and 1 Kings 22, it came from God Almighty via Satan. It was God who gave Saul an “evil spirit” (1 Sam. 18:10); it was Paul who turned disobedient Christians over to the Devil (1 Cor. 5:3–5; 1 Tim. 1:20).

What this all means is that anytime any Christian anywhere on the face of this earth, in any age, climate, culture, or environment, gets more interested in himself, his family, his job, his health, his ministry, his income, the weather, politics, sports, art, music, or “doing good to his fellow man” than he is in finding the truth (John 14:6, 18:37, 17:17, 16:13), he is in danger of being deceived. Hence, three warnings are found in the New Testament which have to be observed before any man becomes involved in anything.

1. “Be not deceived” (Gal. 6:7).
2. “Let no man deceive you” (Eph. 5:6).

3. “Let no man deceive himself” (1 Cor. 3:18).

I am going to give you a first-class, “A-one” triple deception (see above) received by all news outlets and all 191 Gentile nations in the UN. This deception is so monstrous that anybody with an IQ of 80 who could read third-grade English could see through it as clearly as he could through a plate glass window with the pane knocked out. Here are two imperialistic religions that both profess:

1. They are the one, true “church,” and there are no others.
2. There will be no world peace until all seven billion inhabitants of the earth belong to their “faith.”
3. They both believe (and practice) killing people who reject their “faith.”
4. They both officially cursed every religious belief outside of their own and all the practitioners of those beliefs.
5. They both obtained their membership by using sex and murder. (Moslems are allowed four wives in order to bear children who aren’t allowed to leave Islam under pain of death; the Catholic Church forbids birth control to increase its attendance. And both are responsible for the deaths of literally tens of millions of people throughout history in order to spread their religion.)
6. They both have two different authorities as “final authority” (Islam—the Koran and the Hadith; Catholicism—the Scriptures and tradition).
7. They both claim that their religious laws should be enforced politically on all secular governments in the UN.
8. They both fought a long war against each other for 200 years (1100–1200) with standard armies because one of them had invaded the other one’s “territory” 400 years before their big war took place.

9. Neither one of them took the Biblical position on the First and Second Advents of Christ, the New Birth, the completed blood atonement of Christ, the local church and its offices, the prophecies in the Old Testament dealing with the theocratic kingdom, the assurance of eternal life, the Tribulation, evangelism, the New Testament plan of salvation, the two raptures, the seven baptisms, the seven mysteries, the seven resurrections, the seven judgments (including the Judgment Seat of Christ and the White Throne Judgment), the image of God, the two natures of the believer, the eternal security of the believer, the meaning of the ordinances, spiritual circumcision, imputed righteousness, and the future of the United Nations.

Both imperialistic Church-States have been proven to be professional deceivers that major in “religion” and leave their followers in pitch-black spiritual darkness. Today, with the news media solidly behind both of them, they are at their maximum level of efficiency in keeping Moslems and Catholics from seeking the truth about anything.

That is the only way you can explain the Twenty-first Century “marriage” of “Mary” to “Mohammed.” This is truly amazing in light of the fact that the Catholic Church, in its most official statement of faith (the Council of Trent, 1545–1563), has declared every Mohammedan on earth since A.D. 600 to be cursed by

God (“anathema”) if he didn’t subscribe to the Catholic “Apostles’ Creed” and the Roman Catholic sacraments. Not to be outdone by the Pope and his bully boys, Mohammed, in the “Noble Koran” (Sura 3:58, 9:30, 17:39, 2:116, 72:3, 6:102, 37:152), returned the favor and said every “Christian” (including all Roman Catholics) since A.D. 33 was cursed by “Allah” because he believed God had a Son who died on the cross.

But now, lo and behold! right before your very eyes, you find the leaders of both “faiths” joining hands to take Jerusalem away from the Jews and turn it over to Moslems and Catholics! And yet, every Moslem is “Jewish” when it comes to monotheism (Deut. 6:4), idolatry (Exod. 20:4–5), and killing Jesus Christ because he professed to be Deity (Matt. 26:64–66; John 10:33).

How is that for “strong delusion”? Here are two of the largest religions on earth (both boast over a billion followers each) swearing by all that is “holy” to them that the other “faith” is damned by the “God” who established them as “the true faith.” In order to “get along” in their goal of getting rid of that Jew, they both had to deceive each other (after they had both been deceived by Satan); then both “in tandem” were able to deceive all the major news outlets on six continents into thinking they both served the same God.

Buddy boy, you talk about “strong delusion,” how do you like that one? They are the Twenty-first Century “odd couple”; they have pulled off the most gigantic, awesome, impossible, fantastic deception that has ever been put on the human race since Genesis 3. To do it, both religions had to lie to themselves and pretend they were not deceived, but either of them would do anything or say anything to obtain its objective: worldwide domination for its religion.

To call these two imperialistic religions “liars” and “deceivers” would be to underrate both of them terribly. Both of them passed the limits of sanity, as well as humanity, more than fourteen centuries ago. Anyone who would believe either “faith” would prove to be a willfully ignorant heathen full of wine or “zam zam” juice.

No modern New Age “global citizen” can handle either religion, for no modern “globalized” fool knows enough about the contents of the Bible, the contents of the Council of Trent, or the contents of the Koran to discuss any of them. Long ago, Americans quit being interested in finding out the truth about anything; consequently, they will follow the same path as God’s “chosen people,” as recorded in 2 Kings, 2 Chronicles, and Jeremiah. It is a course that is sure and well mapped by the Author of the Book: it is TOTAL DESTRUCTION.

“The wicked shall be turned into hell, and ALL THE NATIONS that forget God” (Psa. 9:17).

“For I am with thee [speaking of the Jews], saith the LORD, to save thee: though I make A FULL END OF ALL NATIONS as whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished” (Jer. 30:11).

America's Secret Weapon

By Robert Militello

“And it came to pass from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that the LORD blessed the Egyptian’s house for Joseph’s sake; and the blessing of the LORD was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field” (Gen. 39:5).

By God’s grace, our nation still stands, and no other nation on earth has been given the blessings that we have received. Because God’s word gives the light that the unsaved do not possess, a Bible believer knows more than the college professors, historians, economists, and politicians (see Psa. 119:98–100). The Jews among us comprise our national surety. Webster defined surety, in 1828, as “security and safety, a foundation of stability and support.”

“By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament” (Heb. 7:22).

America provided the refuge the Jews of Europe so badly needed in the last century. For that and Genesis 12:3, the Bible believer is brought to an inescapable conclusion: our nation has been highly favored, as was Egypt under Joseph’s administration. The world envies us for our abundance. There have been no famines here, thank God.

“And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Joseph had said: and the dearth was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread” (Gen. 41:54).

Everyone wants to come to America. Why is that? This nation has been a magnet for those tired of poverty and political helplessness. I thank God for my great grandfather, Dominic Militello, who left Sicily over a century ago to give his family a better life. He came to a land where the gospel of salvation was preached; not so in Sicily. He settled in Buffalo, New York, where Romanism was challenged and preached against by men whose loyalty was to the word of God, and not to some clown in Rome dressed in a Halloween costume.

I don’t know if my great-grandfather found salvation, but his decision to abandon the land of his forefathers opened the door for the next four generations to receive eternal life. My grandfather, my dad, myself, and my sons trusted the finished work of Jesus Christ to save our souls. Thank God for America. For countless millions of immigrants, it has been a light shining in a dark world. Let me add that my great-grandfather entered America legally, through the Port of New Orleans. Immigrants from southern Europe did not all arrive at Ellis Island in New York harbor.

Surely, the One who made this nation a blessing can change that at any time. Anyone possessing even a tiny amount of spiritual understanding knows that our nation has been abandoning the fear of God, now, for quite some time. How much longer can we last?

“And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it; If it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them” (Jer. 18:9–10).

Will the fact that our country has been an Old Testament “city of refuge” for the Jew, with blood on his hands in the sight of God (see Matt. 27:25), save America? No, the UN and all its member states, including us, will suffer the wrath of God at the return of Jesus Christ to this earth. Modern Israel has no business being a member of the UN. Balaam, who couldn't curse Israel, made clear that that one nation was different from all others (see Num. 23:9).

When the church is removed at the rapture (Tit. 2:13), America will not be the refuge for the Jew that it has been. Among the children of Jacob who will then seek for the God of Israel, a remnant will hear the call to leave!

“And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues” (Rev. 18:4).

The destruction of Mystery Babylon will include America. Nevertheless, because so many Jews have fallen in love with mammon since coming to America, only a remnant will leave for Israel. Did not the seventy-year captivity of the Jews in literal Babylon end with only a remnant returning to the land of their fathers?

No one can pull down our nation without the Lord's permission. We have survived almost eight years of a grossly inept presidency. Our two-party system gives the appearance of genuine competition, but is demonstrably as phoney as professional wrestling. The mainstream clergy in our nation (Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, and Moslem) have about as much regard for God's word as the Supreme Court had when it ruled on what constituted a marriage. Our sense of what is morally right has been eviscerated by Hollywood, cable television, and now, the Internet. Yet, we stand.

Over sixty years ago, a New York street tough found himself escaping one bad situation after another. He finally got a shot at the middleweight boxing crown and won. A movie of his life was made, starring Paul Newman. The biography was entitled, “Somebody Up There Likes Me.” Rocky Graziano instinctively knew what any God-fearing American knows—great have been the mercies of God and the grace He has shown us.

I often spoke with many elderly Jews while living in Brooklyn for 55 years. They had a very real sense of gratitude and debt to America. They argued frequently among themselves, but one sentiment was never debated: “No nation has ever cared for us like this nation.” That's what I heard. That explains why Irving Berlin wrote, “God Bless America.” Thank God, so He has.

“And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed” (Gen. 12:3).

Our leaders and representatives in Washington ought to know that the promise made to Abraham is the one reason we are still afloat today. In spite of all the Ph.D.s that graduate each year from Harvard, Princeton, and Yale, our national situation continues to deteriorate. Knowledge by itself saves no one. There is an unseen hand orchestrating events in our nation that defies explanation, unless you know God's word. The Lord often steps into history in a direct way whenever and wherever He chooses. Does not the book of Esther show this?

Since 1978, I have read a number of books predicting national bankruptcy. All of these prognostications, many by Christians, copied the scenario found in The Day the Dollar Died. Thousands of believers were moved to buy silver and gold because of these books. Fear, especially when it comes to money, gets Christians to put aside the promise of God (Phil. 4:19) and go into panic mode.

In 2008, our nation experienced a financial crisis that threatened to collapse our national economy. Millions lost their jobs and houses. Who stepped in at the right time, stopping the banks from bleeding out their reserves? It was Ben Shalom Bernanke, appointed by President Bush as chairman of the Federal Reserve in 2006. He was the right man at the right time, like Joseph the Jew in Egypt; he steered America away from disaster. Ben Bernanke had been reading Torah scrolls since he was a child, and he had mastered Hebrew. When the Lord decided to give this nation some more time, He put a Jew in charge of the money, and the dollar did not die. Ben Bernanke had succeeded another Jew, Alan Greenspan, who had run America's cash register since 1987. He was also a brilliant Jew who made all the Christian "seers" look foolish in the rush to dump the dollar and buy precious metals.

For a hundred years, America's money manager was a male, but in 2014, Janet Yellen, a Jewess from Brooklyn, New York, got behind the wheel. She has a Ph.D. in Economics from Yale, and the U.S. Senate gave her quick approval. If you know anything about Jewish women from Brooklyn, rest assured, they know how to handle a dollar. So we have had three Jews in a row handling our national pocketbook, and even though President Obama is no friend of Israel, America sails on.

Everyone wants American dollars, and although we are deeply in debt, the nations still do not trust any other currency. Why? There is something about that Jew which the world just can't seem to figure out. When you embraced a Jewish Book and a Jewish Saviour, you got on the right plane. He'll carry you above all the clouds of fear until you arrive safely at your destination—His Father's house.

"The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God" (Psa. 9:17).

Yes, we are still afloat, thank God, but our national destiny remains fixed. A good Jewish doctor may keep the aging body going for a good amount of time, but eventually, the end must come. For the United States, the end will be tragic. We've been the recipient of so much mercy and grace. This has caused our accountability to God to be enormous. His longsuffering is clearly limited.

"He will not always chide: NEITHER WILL HE KEEP HIS ANGER FOR EVER" (Psa. 103:9).

No one knows this better than a Jew who hasn't stopped reading what his ancestors wrote long ago. A Jew without the promises of Jesus Christ is a fearful man. He wakes up with fear, studies to get ahead, enjoys humor, but goes to bed with fear (see Deut. 28:66–67). There's no Joseph, Daniel, or Mordecai around today to keep this nation from eventual collapse. Only the Lord knows how much time is left.

"Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof" (Matt. 6:34).

Dollars keep missionaries on the field. Although the dollar buys less now than ever before, in a remarkable twist, the U.S. dollar has grown stronger outside our shores. The value of the U.S. dollar has risen against almost every other currency. Why is that? Well, because of our political stability and America's gift in developing innovative technology, foreigners with money look to invest in America. The rich of this world continue to buy U.S. Treasury notes and purchase stock in our best publicly traded corporations. Smart money knows best where to grow, especially in times of international uncertainty. Who's behind all this?

Until the preaching of "the gospel of the grace of God" (Paul's gospel—Acts 20:24) ceases at the rapture, Christians in America should continue to "lay up . . . treasures in heaven" (Matt. 6:20). It is a privilege to be able to give to missionaries. The Lord has so blessed us in this regard that the Judgment Seat of Christ will no doubt be a holy terror for American saints, who are so unlike the Jew. Jacob's children know how to handle money and invest wisely. The gospel that saved you and me needs to be given to others. Those who labor in the foreign field covet your prayers for sure, but without dollars, the work stops. Giving is our duty, amen?

"He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep to gain what he cannot lose" (Jim Elliot, missionary martyr). I read that in a Christian book years ago and asked the Lord not to let me die as a Christian fool.

God has been so good to America. Once we opened our doors to Europe's Jews, and the Lord opened the windows of heaven upon us. We became the world's richest nation. No matter who gets elected to the White House next month, our nation will continue to stand. This could only change if the Jews of America decided to leave en masse for Israel. As long as they remain, view them as our surety.

THE CREED OF THE ALEXANDRIAN CULT

1. There is no final authority but God.
2. Since God is a Spirit, there is no final authority that can be seen, heard, read, felt, or handled.
3. Since all books are material, there is no book on this earth that is the final and absolute authority on what is right and what is wrong, what constitutes truth and what constitutes error.
4. There WAS a series of writings one time which, IF they had all been put into a BOOK as soon as they were written the first time, WOULD HAVE constituted an infallible and final authority by which to judge truth and error.
5. However, this series of writings was lost, and the God who inspired them was unable to preserve their content through Bible-believing Christians at Antioch (Syria), where the first Bible teachers were (Acts 13:1), and where the first missionary trip originated (Acts 13:1-52), and where the word "Christian" originated (Acts 11:26).
6. So God chose to ALMOST preserve them through Gnostics and philosophers from Alexandria, Egypt, even though God called His Son OUT of Egypt (Matthew 2), Jacob OUT of Egypt (Genesis 49), Israel OUT of Egypt (Exodus 15), and Joseph's bones OUT of Egypt (Exodus 13).
7. So there are two streams of Bibles. The most accurate—though, of course, there is no final, absolute authority for determining truth and error; it is a matter of "preference"—are the Egyptian translations from Alexandria, Egypt, which are "almost the originals," although not quite.
8. The most inaccurate translations were those that brought about the German Reformation (Luther, Zwingli, Boehler, Zinzendorf, Spener, et al.) and the worldwide missionary movement of the English-speaking people: the Bible that Sunday, Torrey, Moody, Finney, Spurgeon, Whitefield, Wesley, and Chapman used.
9. But we can "tolerate" these if those who believe in them will "tolerate" US. After all, since there is NO ABSOLUTE AND FINAL AUTHORITY that anyone can read, teach, preach, or handle, the whole thing is a matter of "PREFERENCE." You may prefer what you prefer, and we will prefer what we prefer. Let us live in peace, and if we cannot agree on anything or everything, let us all agree on one thing: THERE IS NO FINAL, ABSOLUTE, WRITTEN AUTHORITY OF GOD ANYWHERE ON THIS EARTH.

This is the Creed of the Alexandrian Cult.

Will the next president treat Israel better than President Obama did? I hope so. This is reason enough to obey Paul's exhortation to Timothy that prayer be made for those in authority (1 Tim. 2:1–4). If our next president wants to procure God's favor in a meaningful way, the United States should recognize Jerusalem as the undivided capital of Israel. The pope and the Moslem world would throw an epileptic fit, but the windows of heaven would remain open for us a while longer. We could use that.

On May, 1948, the Lord stepped into history again in a dramatic fashion. A new refuge was established for the wandering Jew. The modern state of Israel was born, and America's usefulness to the Lord received a makeover. We were now to be Israel's nurturer and bodyguard. Also, we would continue to send out missionaries to complete the Body of Christ before the fulfillment of Titus 2:13.

The next president of the United States will be sworn in on January 20, 2017. We are broke and living on credit extended by the wealthy around the world. Our national debt is approaching 21 trillion dollars, and that will never be repaid. As Dr. Ruckman used to say, "We are out of gas and running on fumes."

Well, the Jewish bankers—Greenspan, Bernanke, and Yellen—have managed our financial crisis with the same Jewish resourcefulness that Joseph used to bring Egypt through the seven years of famine. America, the dollar, and the Jew are inextricably bound together until Gentile world power is transferred to the Antichrist.

Eventually, the dollar will die. "MONEY FAILED in the land of Egypt" (Gen. 47:15). Will it die with our next president? Perhaps.

"To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven" (Eccl. 3:1).

We live in a nation possessing the world's most powerful military, allowing us to strike at any time against an enemy. Our intelligence personnel (the CIA) around the world keep us informed, and the National Security Agency (NSA) listens into and views countless millions of personal communications, whether we like it or not. Notwithstanding all this impressive array of security and preparedness, the Jew in our midst has been our secret weapon. If our leadership spent more time seeking God's face and reading His word, the reason for our abundance would not be such a mystery.

"Thus said the LORD, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: But let him that glorieth glory in this, THAT HE UNDERSTANDETH AND KNOWETH ME, THAT I AM THE LORD WHICH EXERCISE LOVINGKINDNESS, JUDGMENT, AND RIGHTEOUSNESS, IN THE EARTH: FOR IN THESE THINGS I DELIGHT, SAITH THE LORD" (Jer. 9:23–24).
